

Solicitors and Immigration Advisors Contact Details

You are entitled to free legal representation to assist you with your asylum application.

Immigration specialists must be registered with the OISC (Office of the Immigration Services Commissioner). Only solicitors registered with OISC can undertake immigration work, give you legal advice and representation. Please look out for the OISC symbol (on your right) on any solicitors' letterheads and business cards to make sure that the firm of solicitor representing you, can undertake this work.

Please don't just accept the first solicitor you see; it is your choice to decide which solicitor you want to represent you and you do not have to hand over money or release your immigration papers to your solicitor.

We are not able to recommend a specific solicitor to you but below is a list of some of the solicitors who work with asylum seekers and refugees in Wales.
